Blaackbeard Junk Removal is a locally owned and operated residential and commercial junk removal company, opened on June 15th 2015 to address the growing need of properly disposing of unwanted junk. Unlike other local hauling companies out there, Blaackbeard not only takes care in recycling your items but donating useful ones as well so they won't go to waste either way.

"We believe in 3Rs Reduce, Recycle, and Reuse" said Fred, owner of Blaackbeard Junk Removal. This is something that can be done by donating or by properly managing the junk. "In addition to donating we make sure that we make our environment clean," said Fred. "For those who want a healthy lifestyle they should keep in mind that a healthy lifestyle starts with a clean home. Why not reduce the use of contaminants and toxic materials at home?" said the owner.

They helped me get my house ready for staging by removing a full load of junk including a massive sectional couch from my basement. Great prices, fast work & super nice people."
