

Taproom and Restaurant 'Bandit Brews' to Serve Locally Sourced Beer and Food in Melrose Arts District

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, USA, September 7, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- LA local and entrepreneur, Daniel Sokolovsky, today announced the official opening of Bandit Brews, a taproom and restaurant serving locally sourced beer, wine and food in the Melrose Arts District at 7274 Melrose Avenue, Los Angeles, CA, 90046. Bandit Brews will also serve as an experiential venue to interact with its soon to be launched online brand featuring local products from all over the Greater Los Angeles region.

Bandit Brews will have a rotating tap which currently features beers from HiDef Brewing with eight beers on tap and another eight in cans. The menu showcases a variety of locally sourced meat, fish and produce (within 200 miles), of which many items are cooked using a Santa Maria grill. Sokolovsky describes the menu as elevated bar food with a local twist like a grilled guacamole, a Spatchcock hen with campfire potatoes and a La Diabla shrimp that features a sauce from the chef's hometown of Oaxaca, Mexico.

"I launched Bandit Brews with the goal of creating a welcoming gathering place for those in the neighborhood and a destination that highlights everything local," said Owner Daniel Sokolovsky. "I have hopes that the environment emanates a sense of community and provides local beer, wine and food purveyors an avenue to highlight their items."

The venue seats 90 patrons dispersed amongst two inside rooms, a front sidewalk patio and a back beer garden (set to open by late September). Current operating hours are 4:00pm-12:00am, Friday and Saturday and 3:00pm-11:00pm, Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday; the taproom is closed Monday and Tuesday. In addition to on-site dining, online ordering is currently available.
