

CUDDLY HAS PARTNERED WITH KABUL SMALL ANIMAL RESCUE TO RAISE $60,000 FOR ABANDONED AFGHAN ANIMALS

Hundreds of international animals are in need of your help to give them the life they deserve

You all answered the call every single time we put it out, helped us move mountains, got the ears of powerful people that could help us when the night was dark.”

Kabul Small Animal Rescue

Rescue has joined CUDDLY, a crowdfunding platform that supports animal nonprofit organizations, to help care and bring Afghan animals to safety. Kabul Small Animal Rescue has made it their mission to provide medical care and safe, healthy homes for the most deserving animals. Kabul and CUDDLY will work together to raise $60,000 that will go towards the care of hundreds of animals.

As of August 15th, Taliban Militants retook Afghanistan's capital, ensuing violence, panic and chaos globally. Since then, there's been an increase in the loss of civilian lives, which often leads to animal casualties being overlooked. With abandoned and injured animals roaming the streets, Kabul Small Animal Rescues is canvassing nearby areas to rescue as many animals as they can. Hundreds of animals have been saved thus far, however, with cash shortages and supply chain issues, resources are even more scarce. Kabul Small Animal Rescue and CUDDLY are asking friends and animal advocates to help reach their goal of $60,000 to provide for the on-going care of these animals.

“Your support and patience as [Kabul Small Animal Rescue] team has navigated obstacle after obstacle - challenge after challenge -- has been immense... You all answered the call every single time we put it out, helped us move mountains, got the ears of powerful people that could help us when the night was dark. You all have called us heroes on [Twitter], but as we all say ‘the magic is caring,’ and you all cared so much and so deeply. The real heroes here are you.” says Kabul Small Animal Rescue.
