“My best-selling product of all time is my Camera-Ready Makeup. It's an oil-free makeup that takes away all the redness, it acts as foundation, concealer, a dewy-powder finish, and it's natural sun protection all in one. So you don't need a primer with this and you don't need separate sun protection,” reports Jennifer Bradley on the capabilities of this product.

This foundation was created to provide a flawless finish for all skin types, as well as all kinds of skin challenges. With the power of four products, it goes on silky smooth with phenomenal coverage. For those with challenges that center around redness, this product was specially designed to manage them. As Jennifer states: "The coverage is amazing. It really, really covers all the red. Nothing covers and protects red skin, rosacea, or acne better than my Camera-Ready Makeup." As someone who deals with redness herself, Jennifer understands the difficulty of finding makeup that really conceals it.

So powerful is Jennifer Bradley's 4-in-One Camera Ready Foundation, it is a favorite product among pro athletes and surfers, who appreciate the flawless finish, with reef-safe, all-natural sun protection, and its waterproof, sweat-proof abilities that keep them looking camera-ready, even in the heat of an event. Users have raved about this product's lightweight feel without being cakey or excessive. A minute amount goes a long way, and the simplicity of this product is loved for saving time and effort.

The company also takes a hands-on approach to ensuring customers are wholly satisfied with their products and their results. Before purchasing the 4-in-One Camera Ready Foundation, the company insists all customers consult with their color match experts, to ensure the shade they choose is a perfect match for their skin tone. For further assurance, this service is available on the Jennifer Bradley website 24/7.

4-in-One Camera Ready Foundation is an oil-free formula that allows wearers to flaunt flawless skin and be confident in their appearance. It was made for beautiful, natural-looking coverage in all kinds of lighting, including sunlight, stage lights, and low light. Additionally, when wearing it, you can relax knowing your skin is ready for the stage, camera, or red carpet.
