KOACORE, along with CLEARED4, is involved in ensuring health safety at events and concert tours across the country.

CLEARED4 is working with KOACORE in providing the complete platform for on-site testing and vaccine verification for music fans that haven’t been pre-cleared through the platform. “CLEARED4 is a best-in-class software provider with vaccine verification, symptom monitoring and access control. We are proud to partner with CLEARED4 as an integral component of the Return to Live,” said Teddy Raskin, CEO and co-founder of KOACORE.

CLEARED4 is a turnkey platform—used either as a frictionless, standalone experience or as a seamless integrated product in the app of any client—that enables a user’s COVID-19 health status to be connected to any form of access control in real-time such as venue apps or specific employer tools.

The flexible solution enables partners to pick any combination of COVID-19 symptom checking, test results and vaccination data to trigger access to an entire location such as a venue or a classroom or a specific zone within that location, using any form of unique identifier, including custom QR codes, government IDs, membership cards, building access cards, wearables and facial recognition.

“CLEARED4’s goal is to reach as many people as possible in an effort to aid reopening and the return of live—be it sports, concerts or other major events. In working with established partners like KOACORE, we are consistently providing clients with the best resources for safe reopening,” said Ashley Heather, co-founder and president of CLEARED4.

In the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, KOACORE was founded to support US citizens and organizations by providing them with PPE products and safety solutions needed to battle the novel coronavirus.

CLEARED4’s platform was developed in response to the enormous compliance, administration and financial burdens on organizations wanting to reopen and stay open during this pandemic. CLEARED4 is currently enabling more than 10 million access pass entries per month and growing rapidly.
