We know that the good people of Louisiana will step and donate even more for 2021 Clean Out Your Freezer Day, in order to help our neighbors who are in need.”

Julie Grunewald, Executive Director of Hunters For The Hungry Louisiana

“Hurricane Ida forced us to make some adjustments to this year’s Clean Out Your Freezer Day,” says Julie Grunewald, executive director of Hunters For The Hungry. “We know that the good people of Louisiana will step and donate even more this year, in order to help our neighbors who are in need. It’s been incredible to see all of the Louisiana food banks working to ensure that Southeast Louisiana is taken care of. Our Clean Out Your Freezer Day is a perfect way for sportsmen to give back and help with these efforts.”

With the support of local food banks, churches, and community betterment organizations, H4H orchestrates a successful statewide effort to provide for the five (5) major food banks in Louisiana, as well as direct to shelters and kitchens and other agencies in various communities. H4H was able to provide 96,000 meals with the 24,000 pounds collected in 2020, and H4H is hopeful that the sportsmen of Louisiana will continue to care and share.
