

DevOps Dozen² Awards 2021 Nominations Now Open

DevOps Dozen Awards are back for the seventh year, celebrating innovative people and companies whose contributions are of great value to the DevOps community

BOCA RATON, FL, USA, September 15, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MediaOps, the place to tell your story in the most powerful way, has opened nominations for the seventh annual DevOps Dozen Awards. Submissions will be accepted now through October 22. For the second year in a row, the awards program has been expanded to include a vendor section and a community member section, with 12 categories in each.

The DevOps Dozen Awards recognize those people and companies whose contributions are of great value to the DevOps community.

There are a dozen awards in each of the two main sections:

These awards will recognize those who have displayed exceptional leadership and hard work in the DevOps community while navigating through these challenging times.”

Alan Shimel, founder and CEO, MediaOps

1. DevOps Dozen Tools and Services Awards: These vendor awards recognize the most innovative companies developing and selling outstanding solutions to empower developers, DevOps and IT operations teams. Each entry costs $250. Vendors may nominate themselves.
2. DevOps Dozen Community Awards: These awards celebrate organizations and leaders who have accomplished outstanding achievements and made significant contributions to the DevOps community. The nominees with the highest number of votes in each category will advance to the finals. A maximum of two entries in each category will be allowed per nomination. There are no nomination fees in this category, but it is not open to commercial vendors.

“Last year we expanded the awards to honor both vendors and community leaders, and we’re doing that again,” said Alan Shimel, founder and CEO, MediaOps. “These awards will recognize those who have displayed exceptional leadership and contributions to the DevOps community while navigating through these challenging times.”
