

HomeTown and Rank One finalize partnership to bring digital tickets to Texas high schools

DALLAS, TEXAS, USA, September 22, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Today Rank One has announced a partnership with HomeTown, a digital ticketing provider for high schools across the country. As a result of the partnership, schools will be able to use their Rank One account data to power digital ticketing, allowing for faster setup and easier online ticketing management.

Integrating with Rank One's easy to use management platform gives athletic directors complete end to end control without needing to input data into multiple platforms"

HomeTown CEO Ryan Hart

"The ability to quickly upload Rank One schedules into HomeTown Box Offices makes managing high school sporting events even easier than before for our Texas Districts. Integrating with Rank One's easy to use management platform gives athletic directors complete end to end control without needing to input data into multiple platforms," said HomeTown CEO Ryan Hart.

"With the landscape of high school sports rapidly changing, digital ticketing is more necessary than ever, and we are striving to make the process easy and seamless for our many customers. HomeTown is already a leader in the industry and this partnership is poised to benefit thousands of schools with activities already scheduled in our software today." Says Jason McKay, CEO at RankOne.

The HomeTown platform is now part of Rank One Connect, and will integrate with Rank One's existing school activity management features, expanding the possibilities for existing customers on both platforms. This will help eliminate redundant data entry and additional paperwork for activities and allow users to accept digital tickets through their mobile devices at the gate on game day.
