

Mobile Edge Makes It Easier Than Ever For Consumers To Protect Their Tech with PayPal's Pay In 4 Option

PayPal's Pay In 4 Buy Now, Pay Later Option Allows Consumers to Protect Their Electronics without Breaking Their Budget

ANAHEIM, CA, UNITED STATES,
September 23, 2021 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Mobile Edge is growing the ways consumers can get their Mobile Edge gear now and pay for it later. By providing consumers with the option of PayPal's new "buy now pay later" (BNPL), Pay in 4, they can protect and organize their gaming, school, office, and personal electronics sooner than ever—and they can do it without breaking their budget.

How It Works

Using 'Pay in 4' is interest-free, doesn't affect your credit score, and Mobile Edge ships when you make the first payment"

Paul June, VP of Marketing

PayPal's new BNPL option lets consumers buy a protective case, backpack, tote, or another item from Mobile Edge in four easy payments over six weeks:

- Add items to their Mobile Edge shopping cart.
- Choose PayPal when they check out.
- Select "Pay in 4" (the name of PayPal's BNPL choice).

PayPal will run a quick check to make sure the account is in good standing. If so, PayPal will charge the first payment and schedule three more payments over six weeks. If consumers don't see the "Pay in 4" option when checking out, either the item being purchased is not eligible or "Pay in 4" is not available in your state (see PayPal for details).

"Using 'Pay in 4' is interest-free, doesn't affect your credit score, and Mobile Edge ships when you make the first payment," explains Paul June, VP of Marketing for Anaheim-based Mobile Edge.

“The past year-and-a-half has been tough on everyone. We’re hoping the ability to split payments over time makes it a little easier for customers to get the gear and the protection they need for their mobile electronics.”

Already, 60% of US consumers have used BNPL to buy electronics and related accessories, and some 57% of shoppers say they’ve used the “Pay in 4” option.
