Small business owners can benefit from the new tax law, which allows them to deduct more expenses and take advantage of new tax breaks. This is especially true for those who are self-employed or own a small business. The new law allows them to deduct more expenses, such as home office expenses, and take advantage of new tax breaks, such as the new Section 179 deduction. This can help them reduce their tax liability and increase their cash flow. It is important for small business owners to consult with a tax professional to ensure they are taking full advantage of the new law.
