are more and more in everybody's mouth when it comes to the topic of personality development, mindset and programming of the subconscious. First of all, the question arises as to what exactly Silent Subliminals are. Silent Subliminals are audio files that contain affirmations that our conscious mind cannot perceive, but which are stored in the subconscious mind and have their effect there. Our brain is designed to always strive to reaffirm our deepest beliefs and convictions over and over again in our daily lives. Our beliefs and convictions sit in our subconscious mind, which sends impulses to our conscious mind, prompting it to constantly re-verify the beliefs.

With affirmations that are spoken aloud, the problem so often arises that our conscious mind receives contrary signals. The subconscious mind gives an impulse, for example: "I am unattractive". If we now receive the compliment from outside: "But you look good!", our consciousness rejects this statement because it is imprinted on other beliefs. It therefore passes on to the subconscious that this statement is not true, whereupon the subconscious again feels confirmed. In Silent Subliminals, the affirmations are not spoken aloud, but are stored in a higher frequency range in the audio file. In this way, it is not possible for the conscious mind to verify the affirmations or reject them, and they go directly to the subconscious mind, where they can overwrite the previous beliefs piece by piece.

In this way, the subconscious mind can be realigned in any direction. People who are convinced that they are not in control of their lives become great achievers with the help of Silent Subliminals and thus become role models for other people. Silent Subliminals can help people on many different mental, as well as physical levels. For example, they can relieve depression, strengthen self-discipline, lead people into a happy relationship, as well as relieve pain and cure allergies.

Silent Subliminals are as powerful a tool as hypnosis. However, created incorrectly, they are also high risk, as the conscious mind cannot verify the information that the suggestions give to the subconscious mind. Thus, if the affirmations are incorporated into the audio file with only half-knowledge, or even ignorance, the subliminal can produce the opposite effect. With affirmations, every word that is included in them matters.

There is a big difference if the affirmation is "you are happy" or if it is "you are never unhappy again". The subconscious mind does not know negations, so with the first affirmation "you are happy" is stored, while the second affirmation is synonymous with "you are unhappy" for the subconscious mind and is stored as that phrase.
