

Universal Declaration on Combating and Preventing Forced Organ Harvesting - a Call to Humanity to Cease CCP Atrocities

The World Summit on Combating and Preventing Forced Organ Harvesting, with 38 global human rights experts, garners hundreds and thousand of online viewers

WASHINGTON, DC, USA, September 28, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Universal Declaration on Combating and Preventing Forced Organ Harvesting - a Call to Humanity to Cease the Atrocity Perpetrated by the Chinese Communist Party

During this year's UN General Assembly in September, "World Summit on Combating and Preventing Forced Organ Harvesting," co-hosted by five non-governmental organizations from the US, Europe, and Asia and including a series of six online webinars, was held from Sept. 17 to 26, 2021 and brought together 38 experts from 19 countries around the globe. According to the statistics compiled by the event organizers, the World Summit has garnered several hundred thousand views.

At the end of the World Summit, the organizers launched the Universal Declaration on Combating and Preventing Forced Organ Harvesting, also referred to as UDCPFOH, calling on the entire human race to support the concerted endeavor to cease the atrocity of forced organ harvesting committed by the Chinese Communist Party (CCP).

The UDCPFOH is jointly launched by five initiating NGOs: "Doctors Against Forced Organ Harvesting (DAFOH)" from the United States, "CAP Freedom of Conscience" from Europe, "Transplant Tourism Research Association (TTRA)" from Japan, "Korea Association for Ethical Organ Transplants (KAEOT)" from South Korea, and "Taiwan Association for International Care of Organ Transplants (TAICOT)" from Taiwan.

The initiating organizations assert that the UDCPFOH is the most solemn declarative instrument, striving to ensure that, as a collective people of the 21st century, we will resolve to cease the most diabolical atrocity of forced organ harvesting by the CCP. The UDCPFOH builds on the foundation of inalienable rights which cannot be deprived by any person or regime and lays bare the core principles of the most fundamental universal values, including the inviolability of human dignity and the protection of human life, body, and freedom. The UDCPFOH also proposes measures to combat and prevent the CCP's forced organ harvesting from gravely violating the value of human existence.

With the following statements, the initiating organizations hereby call on all people of the world to step forward and support the UDCPFOH:

World War II afflicted humankind with irredeemable anguish and loss. It also propelled the international criminal justice system to punish barbaric human rights abuses as a "crime of genocide," "crime of torture," and "crime against humanity," recognized as among the most severe offences by international criminal law. Gross human rights abuses persist within a climate of secrecy and remain undeterred, easily ignored through political and economic influences wielded by totalitarian regimes. Consequently, additional deaths and untold suffering sees no end. Forced organ harvesting by the CCP, a most diabolical crime impacting millions of people, is one such atrocity.

Over the years, investigative reports conducted by international organizations, human rights groups, and governments as well as expert analyses have all concluded that the largest number of victims of forced organ harvesting are the Falun Gong. The independent "China Tribunal" established in London in 2019 asserted that the killing of detainees to obtain their organs for transplants continues in China and that the primary victims include imprisoned Falun Gong practitioners. Crimes against humanity against the Falun Gong and Uyghurs have been proved beyond reasonable doubt.

3. The crimes committed during World War II resulted in the adoption of several important international conventions on human rights. During the 20th century, when wars and abuses wrecked human rights, freedoms and justice, the international community consolidated their consensus to safeguard basic human rights in the form of declarations and international conventions and implemented them around the world. The UDCPFOH clearly upholds the core standards represented in the most important international conventions on human rights within the last 70 years and uses these standards as guiding principles. These conventions include the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948), International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (1966), Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (1984), Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Dignity of the Human Being with Regard to the Application of Biology and Medicine: Convention on Human Rights and Biomedicine (1997), and Council of Europe Convention against Trafficking in Human Organs (2015).

4. Forced organ harvesting is not only used to carry out a "cleansing" and genocide of Falun Gong practitioners and ethnic minority groups, such as Uyghurs, but also implicated in garnering a massive economic profit. Such a profit is derived from organ transplantation itself, as well as transnational organ sale, transplant tourism, and organ brokerage. Therefore, to combat and prevent forced organ harvesting requires endeavors made at the international and national levels simultaneously.

5. At the national level, the UDCPFOH expounds that all governments shall take the necessary legislative and other measures to criminalize forced organ harvesting under their domestic law to strictly punish those responsible for this crime and that the judiciary shall initiate and ensure effective criminal investigation and prosecution of any and all offences. The administrative systems of all governments shall bar entry to any person known to be directly or indirectly participating in forced organ harvesting, shall dissuade their own medical professionals from training Chinese doctors or medical personnel in transplant surgery, and shall urge medical journals to reject publications about the “Chinese experience” in transplant medicine and the like. Meanwhile, each country should enhance the public’s awareness of the unlawfulness of forced organ harvesting. The UDCPFOH stresses international cooperation on the collection, analysis and exchange of relevant information of illicitly obtained human organs and on the investigation into abuses related to forced organ harvesting.

The UDCPFOH has been translated into seven languages: English, Chinese, German, French, Japanese, Korean, and Spanish. The UDCPFOH is available for download at its official website at:

<https://ud-cp-foh.info/>

Lastly, the five initiating organizations call on all organizations and individuals, based on their conscience and dignity as members of the human family, to endorse the Universal Declaration on Combating and Preventing Forced Organ Harvesting, and join us in our endeavor to immediately end this transplantation atrocity.

For all inquiries about the universal Declaration please contact us by email:

Deborah Collins-Perrica APRN

deborah.Perrica@DAFOH.org

Thank you,

Deborah Perrica

Doctors Against Forced Organ Harvesting

+1 203-206-1924

email us here

Visit us on social media:

Facebook

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/552460568>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

