New features give streamers full playlist control over a deep catalog of songs curated for Live and VOD use

NASHVILLE, TN, UNITED STATES,
September 30, 2021 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Soundstripe, a leading provider of unlimited high-quality, royalty-free music, video, and sound effects for creators, announced today the launch of its Twitch Pro extension, an enhancement to its highly successful free Twitch extension. Launched just last September, the free extension – which provides Twitch streamers access to Soundstripe’s large catalog of high-quality, royalty-free music that’s safe from takedowns – has been installed by more than 65,000 Twitch streamers and heard by more than 67 million unique Twitch viewers.

Both the free and Pro versions of the Soundstripe Twitch extension aim to help streamers avoid the frustration of video takedowns due to copyright claims.”

and CTO of Soundstripe*

The new Twitch Pro version adds three highly requested features, including the ability to create custom playlists from Soundstripe’s diverse catalog of high-quality music, shuffle playlists during a livestream, and get exclusive playlists curated by Soundstripe’s Grammy award-winning music team. Streamers access the extension directly within Twitch, and the Pro features can be activated for $3.99 per month or just $36 per year.

“After seeing the rapid adoption of our free Twitch extension and the many requests for enhanced features, we went to work building new tools to make it even easier for streamers to customize playback of our high-quality music catalog and continue avoiding copyright takedowns,” said Trevor Hinesley, Co-Founder and CTO of Soundstripe. “Both the free and Pro versions of the Soundstripe Twitch extension aim to help streamers avoid the frustration of video takedowns due to copyright claims and align directly with our company mission to Keep Creators Creating.”

Twitch streamers continue to seek solutions for including music in their livestreams and archived videos on demand (VOD) without the risk of triggering copyright claims and subsequent video takedowns. Soundstripe's solutions aim to provide streamers with copyright-safe alternatives at various accessible price points, including free.
