

Europe Pest Control Market Growth Statistics, Driving Factors and Industry Growth Trends 2025

Fluctuating climatic conditions, easy availability of pest control products and services, and presence of large number regulatory bodies.

OREGON, PORTLAND, UNITED STATES, September 30, 2021 / EINPresswire.com/ -- The Europe pest control market accounted for $3.8 billion in 2017, and is projected to reach $6.2 billion by 2025, registering a CAGR of 6.1% from 2018 to 2025.

Fluctuating climatic conditions, easy availability of pest control products and services, and presence of large number regulatory bodies and leading pest control market players drive the growth of the Europe pest control market. However, health hazardous chemicals related to pest control hinder the market growth. On the contrary, consistent product development and product launches would open new opportunities in the coming years.
