Health Company Co-Founder Will Present at American Chiropractic Association (ACA) Natural Immunology Event in Florida

MERIDIAN, IDAHO, UNITED STATES, October 4, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dr. Jay Davidson, co-founder of health company CellCore Biosciences, will speak about toxicity's effect on the immune system at the American Chiropractic Association (ACA) Council on Nutrition's Natural Immunology Event. The conference is being held at Club Med Sandpiper Bay in Port St. Lucie, Florida from October 14th-17th.

Dr. Jay Davidson Speaks at ACA

It excites me to be speaking at this event and introducing more practitioners to the revolutionary technology CellCore has been able to create. These products can change lives!”

Dr. Jay has an extensive background in immune health. You may know Dr. Jay Davidson as “The Lyme Guy” or as an expert speaker and international best-selling author on foundational medicine and overcoming chronic illness. After nearly losing his wife Heather (a doctor herself) to Lyme disease twice, Dr. Jay Davidson finally pieced together what was needed to save her life and it became his mission to share that with the world. This led him to co-found CellCore Biosciences, which creates health products for gut health and immunity.

On Friday, October 15th, Dr. Jay will speak during the ACA conference luncheon. At the event, Dr. Jay will dive into how toxins impact the function of your immune system. He will also share insights on CellCore’s proprietary Carbon Technology blend, while getting down to the granular level of the science behind pH and product energy of electrical conductivity.

Dr. Jay says, “With CellCore only being four years young, there is so much we are eager to share with the wellness world. It excites me to be speaking at this event and introducing more practitioners to the revolutionary technology CellCore has been able to create. These products can change lives!”
