

AAAED ANNOUNCES ITS 47TH NATIONAL CONFERENCE AND ANNUAL AWARDS CEREMONY

Icons of equal opportunity and diversity are among the speakers and award recipients at the Association's 47th National Conference - October 7 - 15, 2021

WASHINGTON, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, USA, October 6, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The American Association for Access, Equity and Diversity (AAAED), an organization of equal opportunity, diversity and affirmative action professionals, announced its 47th National Conference and Annual Award

Ceremony for 2021. Themed "Reflect, Reset and Move Towards Justice, Equity and Inclusive Excellence," the 47th National Conference and Annual Awards Ceremony is also acknowledging the 60th Anniversary of President John F. Kennedy's Executive Order 10925, the first presidential order that specifically required that federal contractors use affirmative action in their pursuit of equal employment opportunity. "We are delighted to honor and hear such outstanding icons of social justice, diversity and equal opportunity," said Dr. Richard Anthony Baker, president of AAAED.

We are delighted to honor and hear such outstanding icons of social justice, diversity and equal opportunity.”

President, AAAED*

For the first time, the conference will begin by addressing the personal and professional needs of the Equal Opportunity Professional by hosting two “Self-Care and Career Development” Days on October 7 - 8, 2021. Among issues addressed will be discussions about “Practitioner Self-Care: Compassion Fatigue: What does this mean for Practitioners?” and “The State of the Equal Opportunity Professional: Fighting the Fight, Challenges and Opportunities.”

On October 11 – 15, the program will take up issues such as “Supporting Success for Working Adult Students with Learning Disabilities,” and “Evaluating Equity & Inclusion: Using Audits & Assessments to Understand & Strengthen Campus Climate & Racial Equity.” Program formats will range from masterclasses, “Express Talks,” and “deeper dives” and presentations by agency officials, including Jenny Yang, Director of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, U.S. Department of Labor; Jocelyn Samuels, Vice Chair, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC); Suzanne Goldberg, Acting Assistant Secretary, Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Education; and Taryn McKenzie Williams, Assistant Secretary, Office of Disability Employment Policy (ODEP), U.S. Department of Labor. One of the featured panels will also address the issue of Critical Race Theory, which will be moderated by Dr. Jamal Watson, Executive Editor of Diverse Issues in Higher Education.

Another panel will highlight the importance for the offices of Human Resources, Diversity and Inclusion, and Equal Opportunity to collaborate to achieve the institutional goals of access, equity and diversity. The Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC), and the National Association of Diversity Officers in Higher Education (NADOHE) will join AAAED in this discussion about the “Three-Legged Stool,” programs whose missions are inextricably linked.

During the Awards Ceremony on October 15th, the association will acknowledge civil rights, equal opportunity and diversity leaders. Among the honorees are: Rep. Eddie Bernice Johnson (Drum Major for Justice Award), Dr. Ricardo Fernandez, former president of Lehman College in New York, (Cesar Chavez Award); Dr. Ruth J. Simmons, President of Prairie View A&M University, (Rosa Parks Award); Dr. Ansley Abraham, Southern Regional Education Board, (Arthur A. Fletcher Lifetime Achievement Award); Hilton (Roosevelt Thomas Champion of Diversity Award), The Frist
