

FlixU Music Launches New Website for NFT Music and Video

Offers high-quality tracks and videos for licensing and remixing

UNITED STATES, October 6, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FlixU Music has launched a new crypto music site for selling NFTs. It enables owners to sell songs on thousands of sites. FlixU also offers NFTs for video, including the ability to sell complete productions or finance them via NFTs – selling parts of productions for finance and distribution, and selling clips, older productions and pieces from older productions.

FlixU Music is a record company with 20 years of experience in the digital music domain. The business is run by music and movie experts dedicated to selling music NFTs. They offer master rights and fractions, publishing rights and fractions, and any other music assets that can be divided or digitized.

According to a spokesperson for FlixU Music, “NFTs are the next natural step for the music and video industry. Our goal is to give artists and copyright owners more control over their creations and great potential to monetize them in the marketplace.”

Non-Fungible Tokens (NFTs) are digital assets that represent real-world assets, such as music and videos, that are bought and sold online. NFTs are either one-of-a-kind or have a limited run, making NFTs more valuable than traditional digital assets with unlimited copies. According to Forbes, $174 million has been spent on NFTs since November 2017.

With the purchase of an NFT, the owner will receive licensing documentation, a certificate of authenticity, a mailed certificate in a glass frame, a SanDisk MPS player with the song, and the right to remix the song. FlixU can provide a version with different tracks for remixing that can be used for Karaoke or licensed. There are four separated channels: vocals, drums, instruments and general. Songs can even be remixed with a smartphone app to create a new hit record.

All songs on FlixU are curated and must be approved before being available for sale. Only high-quality music will be accepted. The song can be sold on thousands of sites, including Spotify and iTunes. Songs can be licensed for advertising, movies and videos and presented on sites such as OpenSea, Rarity, FlixU Music, Mintable and Foundation. Binance options will be available soon.
