

Author Soma Kar Bronze Medal Winner of Two Prestigious Industry Awards

Kar is the first Australian-Bengali woman author of Indian origin to win book awards for a self-published book.

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, October 7, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Author Soma Kar (pen name), newly published author from Sydney, Australia hailing from the Indo-Aryan Bengali Ethnolinguistic Group has been recognized as the bronze winner for two prestigious writing awards, the 2021 Readers' Favorite International Book Award Contest (Children-Preteen category) and the 2021 Global Book Awards (Mystery/Suspense category) – both for her first book entitled, The Old House by the Woods. The Old House by the Woods is a highly praised, fast-paced, thrilling, and visually captivating mystery book that focuses on a martial arts expert, an ex-police officer, and private detective, Ria Robertson, who is hired to investigate unexplained paranormal activities and mysterious occurrences in her newly purchase home.

With a long-standing passion for writing and creative activities, Kar completed a Diploma in Fine Arts and later pursued a Master's degree in Information and Communication Technology – a field in which she is an award-winning test leader for a multinational company.

"I couldn't be more humbled to be the recipient of these recent awards," says Kar. "As the first Australian-Bengali woman author to win an award for a self-published book, I am deeply honoured and proud to represent my people. Writing The Old House by the Woods was such an incredible journey, and I am so grateful to be recognized for something that means so much to me personally."
