OREM, UTAH, UNITED STATES, October 14, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The founding principles of

At Blue Raven Solar, we work hard to make sure that each employee feels valued and that their work does not go unnoticed,"

Ben Peterson, CEO

Blue Raven Solar encourage employees to build trust, work efficiently, and continuously improve. These values have been present as the company has grown from 3 to 1400+ employees since 2014, and each of these employees is personally valued and individually appreciated.

"At Blue Raven Solar, we work hard to make sure that each employee feels valued and that their work does not go unnoticed," says CEO, Ben Peterson, "This practice helps everyone feel like their work stays at work so they can enjoy their lives outside of the company."

Blue Raven Solar has also been recognized by Comparably for career growth, by Glassdoor as a Best Place to Work in 2021, and as one of Glassdoor's Highest Rated Companies for work-life balance during COVID-19. The company kept the balance as a high priority as they returned to the office and continued to work to bring homeowners solar.

"Our studies show that having work-life balance is the No. 1 priority for workers today," said Comparably co-founder/CEO Jason Nazar. "Companies like Blue Raven Solar are highly ranked by employees on our Best Work-Life Balance list for providing a healthy blend of flexibility which ultimately leads to a more engaged and productive workforce."

The Comparably Awards for Best Companies for Work-Life Balance rankings are based on anonymous sentiment ratings from employees during a 12-month period (September 2020 through September 2021). There were no fees or costs associated with participating, nor was nomination required. To qualify, large companies (500+ employees) must have met a minimum of 75 employee participants. Additional weight was given to companies with more employee participation, for statistical significance. The final data set was compiled from 10 million ratings across 60,000 U.S. companies.
