message, strong constitutional stand, and no-nonsense approach to tyranny and bureaucratic bullying have been resonating in the district and among the America First political establishment.

Jerrod has already demonstrated his readiness to put himself out there for the country where many elected politicians have stepped back in fear of backlash. Jerrod has been to the border to assess the situation firsthand in readiness for his role in office. He has spoken out against the detention of January 6th protestors and given voice to Karl Dresch, who had been detained in a DC jail for over six months for the crime of parading. Jerrod is passionately concerned about forced vaccinations, has spoken out at school board meetings about the indoctrination of our children, and has joined with Election Integrity officials across the country to fight for free and fair elections.
