Stumpy's Hatchet House is a veteran owned and operated axe throwing venue. Axe throwing has been a popular activity, especially during the pandemic. It has given people a healthy release from their stress. Stumpy's Fort Worth is naturally set up where each pit is socially distanced which helped them stay open during the pandemic. "Opening an entertainment business during a pandemic has had its challenges," said Devin Parks, Stumpy's Fort Worth Franchise Owner, "but we are pushing through and trying to give back and reach out to our community as much as we can."
