The Mesothelioma Victims Center fears that certain types of people with mesothelioma shortchange themselves on compensation because the person does not think their financial claim will be worth that much. This group includes the following:

- * Auto Mechanics
- * Construction Workers
- * School-Hospital Maintenance People
- * Navy Veterans who were not exposed to asbestos in a navy ship's engine room.
- * Roofers
- * Individuals who worked on a printing press for a newspaper or commercial publisher.
- * Home Remodeling Contractors
- * Fishing Boat Captains or Crew Members
- * Commercial Carpet Lawyers
- * Home or Commercial Insulators

High-risk work groups for exposure to asbestos include Veterans of the US Navy, power plant workers, shipyard workers, steel mill workers, oil refinery workers, factory workers, plumbers, electricians, welders, pipefitters, millwrights, miners, auto mechanics, machinists, pulp or paper mill workers, printers, firemen, railroad workers and construction workers. In most instances people with mesothelioma were exposed to asbestos in the 1950's, 1960's, 1970's, or 1980's.
