Market Trends

The sudden outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic and the implementation of lockdowns across the globe are encouraging organizations to adopt remote working models for maintaining business continuity. In line with this, the growing security concerns, enabled by the increasing digitization of work functions and operations, are driving the security testing market. Additionally, the escalating threat of cybersecurity attacks resulting in substantial financial losses to individuals, enterprises, and government agencies, is also bolstering the product demand.

Besides this, the growing prominence of online banking services and e-commerce platforms, coupled with the rising product demand from the banking, financial services, and insurance (BFSI) sector, is expected to drive the global security testing market over the forecasted period.

Note: We are regularly tracking the direct effect of COVID-19 on the market, along with the indirect influence of associated industries. These observations will be integrated into the report.
