Market Trends:

The global sterilization equipment market is primarily driven by the increasing prevalence of hospital-acquired infections (HAIs) due to the lack of sanitation and preventive measures. Recently, with the onset of coronavirus disease (COVID-19), HAIs are widespread in surgical centers, hospitals, ambulatory surgical centers, and long-term care facilities. This has resulted in the growing demand for sterilization equipment across the globe. Besides this, the expanding pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries need these sterilization instruments to maintain a sterile processing environment for production and experimentation. Moreover, the increasing number of surgical procedures, rising prevalence of chronic diseases and launch of new product variants are some of the other factors that are expected to propel the market growth in the coming years.
