Evelyn Ackah, Founder and Managing Lawyer of Ackah Law explains,

"After our immigration clients arrive in Canada, they have other urgent legal needs to settle into life in Canada. This hit home for me recently and spurred my decision to expand our legal services for our newcomer clients. Sadly, a recent client returned to Canada with his non-Canadians wife and child and died before he updated his will, and before his wife and child became residents of Canada. Those were simple legal issues we could have helped him with and prevented the legal situation his widow and the province or territory you live in will determine how your estate is divided - not necessarily the laws of your home country. A will is a legal document that says how you want your assets to be distributed if you die. Your estate includes what you own (called assets) and what you owe (called liabilities). An up-to-date will can help your estate representative deal with your estate when you die. Provinces and territories set the laws for estate planning.

Corporate Commercial Services
Ackah Law now provides corporate and commercial law services for legal matters including shareholder agreements, drafting agreements, IT contracts and other business filings to help your business or startup grow in Canada.
