After analyzing the service providers on various metrics, TopDevelopers.co has announced lists of Finest Augmented and Virtual Reality App Developers .

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, October 13, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In 2016, Pokémon Go took the world by storm with young and old taking to streets to catch Pokémons. One could argue that it was the point from where the Augmented Reality and Virtual Reality instantly took off and became a crowd favorite.

A VR developer creates completely new digital environments that people can see through a device such as the Oculus headset, while an AR developer creates a layer of digital experience by augmenting a part of our real world through the use of mobile apps, such as Pokémon Go, a game that utilizes this technology. Though AR/VR has its roots in fun and games like Snapchat filters and Pokémon Go, AR/VR technology is growing up. These days, demands of top mobile app development companies is increasing since businesses are waking up to the potential of AR and VR technologies to
