What is Microsoft for Startups?

Microsoft for Startups is a global program dedicated to helping B2B and B2B2C tech startups successfully develop further and scale their company in partnership with Microsoft. Benefits for startups include technical and commercial help: Azure credits (up to 120k USD for 2 years), O365 license package, Github Enterprise, access to Power Platform, unlimited technical consultations, and much more.

Why is the program important?

Supporting startups that build or are willing to build their innovative solutions on our platform is essential for expanding and strengthening our ecosystem. Many of these companies build niche solutions with tech or industry focus that create value we wouldn't be otherwise able to deliver to our customers. They often have a deep industry background, insights, and network they are willing to share with us.

Willing to close more IP Co-sell deals at your accounts? To high potential startups that consume at least $5k/month, the Microsoft for Startups team offers full support on their way to become IP Co-sell ready.

iJustOrder was founded in 2017 and provides a mobile app based platform for stadiums and event venues across the US. The app allows customers to order concession food, beverages and merchandise, and have it delivered to their seats without missing a minute of the event.
