The Resistance Units installed huge posters of Maryam Rajavi, the President-elect of the National Council of Resistance of Iran \(NCRI\). They also installed images of Massoud Rajavi, the leader of the Iranian Resistance, in major cities such as Tehran and Mashhad.

These activities are carried out while the regime has tried to intensify internal repression after appointing Ebrahim Raisi as president. Raisi is known as the 'butcher of Tehran' in the 1988 massacre because of his pivotal role in executing thousands of political prisoners.

The Resistance Units bravely spread the slogan "It is time to rise up across Iran," with the aim to break the atmosphere of fear and repression the regime tries to impose on people.

These activities took place in Tehran, Mashhad, Ahvaz, Semnan Malard, Kazerun, and Karaj.

Also, in various parts of Tehran, the supporters of the MEK installed huge posters of Maryam Rajavi, celebrating the anniversary of her election by the NCRI in 1993 as the President-elect for the interim period after the overthrow of the mullahs' regime.

The Resistance Units spread slogans such as "A democratic republic with Maryam Rajavi," "Democracy & freedom with Maryam Rajavi," "Justice & freedom with Maryam Rajavi" and "Down with Khamenei, hail to Rajavi, democracy & freedom with Maryam Rajavi," hailed Maryam Rajavi's leading struggle to overthrow the mullahs.
