SHERIDAN, WYOMING, UNITED STATES, October 19, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Market Overview:

According to the latest report by IMARC Group, titled "Online Video Platform Market: Global Industry Trends, Share, Size, Growth, Opportunity and Forecast 2021-2026", the global online video platform market share is expected to exhibit strong growth during 2021-2026. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the global online video platform market to grow at a CAGR of around 15% during 2021-2026.

Online video platform (OVP) refers to a digital solution that allows users to upload, share, convert, manage, track, record, store, playback, and monetize video content online. It enables uninterrupted delivery and adaptive streaming of videos on various devices. These contents are usually uploaded through a combination of a video hosting provider, live streaming platform, and application program interface (API) models. OVP employs software as a service (SaaS) business model and user-generated content (UGC) to communicate, teach, and entertain consumers.

We are regularly tracking the direct effect of COVID-19 on the market, along with the indirect influence of associated industries. These observations will be integrated into the report.

Market Trends and Drivers:

Online Video Platform Market

The global OVP market is majorly being driven by the proliferation of over-the-top (OTT) media services and the improving spending capacity of consumers toward paid video streaming platforms. The rapid establishment of advanced wireless telecom networks and easy internet accessibility are further catalyzing the market growth. Additionally, the emerging trend of designing multimedia-based businesses and marketing content to increase brand awareness is acting as a growth-inducing factor. Moreover, the mass outbreak of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) has positively influenced the global OVP market as the implementation of lockdown facilitated a shift to virtual platforms for viewing and disseminating content.
