My Legal Einstein Integrates with HelloSign API to Enable International eSignatures, Enabling Online Subscribers to Execute and Sign Fully Negotiated Contracts

PALO ALTO, CA, UNITED STATES, October 20, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- My Legal Einstein, the

Jim Chiang, CEO of My Legal Einstein

AI-powered Contract Execution Platform provider, today announced the completed integration with HelloSign API to provide eSignature capabilities for online subscribers of the Contract Execution Platform. This feature enables online subscribers to review, collaborate, negotiate, and finally execute, with eSignatures, fully-negotiated contracts without ever leaving the My Legal Einstein application. HelloSign, a DropBox company, was selected based on its support for international standards of digital signatures, particularly for European and Asian markets.

In addition to the online subscription service, My Legal Einstein also supports eSignature integrations on the cloud instance (for enterprise customers) and on-premise (for global law firms) deployment options via customer-specific integrations. My Legal Einstein supports contracts in many languages, including English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Chinese, Korean, and Japanese.

“By digitally signing contracts within My Legal Einstein, users can have a seamless contracting experience without accessing an external system to finalize the execution of a negotiated contract. This feature provides a streamlined process that further accelerates the contract execution time.”, said Jim Chiang, Founder and CEO of My Legal Einstein.
