

CellCore Biosciences Is an Exhibitor at the Chiropractic Society of Wisconsin (CSW) Fall Experience Seminar

Natural Health Company Supports Chiropractor Conference to Promote Hope and Health

MERIDIAN, IDAHO, UNITED STATES, October 20, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Health company CellCore Biosciences is partnering with the Chiropractic Society of Wisconsin (CSW) as a vendor at their CSW Fall Experience Seminar happening this weekend. From October 22nd through the 24th, chiropractors and their staff are gathering in Wisconsin Dells, WI to earn up to 20 CEUs and learn about everything from chiropractic healthcare models to the gut-brain axis.

Happy CellCore Conference Audience

We are excited to facilitate introducing chiropractors to foundational health principles that can complement chiropractic care and support more holistic health approaches.”

Dr. Andrew Kidder, CellCore Regional Sales Manager

The CSW fall summit has continued to grow in popularity and was recently rebranded “the Fall Experience” because of the immersive culture of the event. The event hosts promote the conference benefits of connection and education, plus fun! They are even providing entertainment outside of the conference for attendees, including a golf outing and ‘Freedom Dinner.’ Learn more about the Fall Experience Seminar on the CSW website here.

Dr. Andrew Kidder, CellCore Regional Sales Manager, says, “At CellCore, we are incredibly supportive of the chiropractic profession. Along with partnering with and supporting many chiropractors as CellCore practitioners, both of our founders are chiropractors in addition to myself. We are excited to facilitate introducing chiropractors to foundational health principles that can complement chiropractic care and support more holistic health approaches.”

CellCore is a health product company that partners with practitioners across the nation and the world. Their focus on the foundational principles of immune health, gut health, and detoxing is what makes CellCore unique in their approach to wellness.
