About Argent

Women's work is changing, but women's workwear hasn't evolved for decades. We know this firsthand: Argent is the result of years spent searching and failing to find clothes with the attitude and ambition to match our own. Now, we're on a mission to upgrade the office dress code, and help women dress like they mean business. Through confident clothes and an inspiring community, we're creating a movement that's all about self expression in and out of the workplace; versatility as a power move; and radical equality when it comes to paychecks, pockets and everything else.
