This partnership is focused on helping MSPs improve their business and develop processes that enable growth. Through education and hands-on training provided by Liongard, Techs+Together community members will learn how to leverage Liongard's automation platform to increase monthly recurring revenue (MRR) to expand their service offering and scale their business.

"We're thrilled to partner with Techs+Together," said Casey Higgins, Liongard Vice President, Channel and Alliances. "At Liongard, we're always focused on how we can help the MSP community learn and grow. And with this partnership we're able to do just that, by providing a combination of learning resources and tools that help MSPs reach that next stage of growth."

Headquartered in Houston, Liongard is focused on providing full data visibility to MSPs that enables them to operate at 10x. Liongard's Unified Visibility platform enables a single-pane view across the entire tech stack with over 70 Inspectors and Integrations, automated Actionable Alerts and reporting that takes MSPs from data to insights faster, empowering them to standardize processes, secure systems and scale their business successfully.
