Durham School Services has been in operation for over 100 years and provides transportation to millions of students each year. As a result of its history and experience in the school transportation field, it recognizes the gravity transportation holds for students' lives and futures. As part of its continued efforts to serve the growing, diverse needs of students and increase the positive impact we make on their lives beyond school and their communities, the Partners Beyond the Bus program was established.

"This donation from Durham School Services is a blessing to the local community," said Pastor Jon Keck at Industry Assembly of God. "We have been in need of an extra vehicle for quite some time and when Durham School Services heard about that, they stepped right in with this donation. The youth and elderly in our community no longer have to miss out on local events and church, which, now, more than ever, are important social aspects of a person's well-being. We and the community are immensely grateful for the donation and can't thank Durham School Services enough for their generosity."

“Industry Assembly of God is constantly giving back and helping those in its community,” said Macomb General Manager Anthony Reaid. “As a company that also deeply values community involvement, it was our pleasure to donate the school bus to an organization that cares about their community just as much as we do. We take great pride in being able to make a difference in the lives of students and the local community and look forward to partnering with the church again in the future.”
