sector, today announced the addition of billing and revenue cycle management capabilities to its Integrated Care Management (ICM) platform. This new Revenue Cycle Accelerator (RCA) module gives clients full control of all Medicaid, State-Paid, Self-Pay, and Managed Care Organization (MCO) billing right from the secure eVero platform, eliminating the need to utilize multiple systems and providers for their service delivery, documentation, and billing and revenue management requirements.

> Today most I/DD agencies bill once per month. eVero enables Medicaid claims to be submitted more frequently, as services are delivered. This expedites the billing process and accelerates cash flow."
> Christos Morris, eVero CEO

RCA's automated workflows collect service details directly from the ICM database and efficiently generate, validate, submit and track electronic reimbursement claims. Built-in data validation tools and daily Medicaid eligibility checks ensure the highest degree of claim accuracy, minimizing denials and expediting payment timeframes. Customizable dashboards offer real-time insight into cash flow by tracking actual payments, accounts receivables, and also projecting future revenue from services already delivered but not yet billed. All submitted claims are linked to the actual service records stored on the platform, providing easy access to support documentation which simplifies the audit process.

"Today most agencies only bill once per month. RCA eliminates the delays associated with obtaining service data from outside EMR systems, enabling claims to be submitted more frequently, as services are delivered," stated Christos Morris, co-founder, and chief executive officer of eVero. "This expedites the entire billing process, which in turn accelerates our clients' cash flow."

"With the addition of revenue management to our platform, agencies now have one comprehensive solution that addresses all their operational, financial, and compliance needs," added Constantine Morris, co-founder, and chief technology officer of eVero. "Leveraging a single platform not only saves time and money; it provides a level of revenue cycle reporting that's unmatched in the industry."

RCA is cloud-based, fully HIPAA EDI compliant, and easily integrates with third-party Accounting, General Ledger, and EMR systems.
