Ecomasters Author Donna L Goodman addresses COP26 to talk about the role fact-based fiction can have in drawing in mainstream media to empower young people.

GLASGOW, SCOTTLAND, UNITED KINGDOM, November 4, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Author Donna L Goodman, addressed the Climate Change Conference in Glasgow, Scotland by video link. In her message, she introduced Ecomasters, a Planet in Peril, her latest fact-based fiction book for young adults. The purpose of the book is to highlight the need for climate action and to teach and empower young adults into becoming climate champions in their own corner of the world.

The event in Glasgow, Scotland attracted a diverse field of speakers including:

Donna L Goodman, Founder, Earth Child Institute;
Author, ECOMASTERSbooks.com

Haldis Holst, Deputy General Secretary, Education International

Ismail Farja, Coordinator of the Youth Climate Hub,
Foundation Mohammed VI/Africa Youth Climate Hub

Naomi Nyamweya – Research Officer, Malala Fund

Kazi Zubair Hossain – Bangladeshi Youth Representative, World Organization of the Scout Movement

As an official observer at COP26, EARTHDAY.ORG will bring together youth activists, academics, government officials, union leaders, industry experts, NGO leaders, and scientists to discuss climate education, civic skill-building, the green economy, carbon removal strategies, citizen science, climate restoration technologies and more. Discussions at COP26 ranged from the green economy, climate change policies, and youth empowerment.
