Single Use/Disposable Endoscopy Market Trends – Technological advancements in healthcare industry

VANCOUVER, BC, CANADA, November 7, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The study is a professional probe into the revenue generated and capacity estimates for the Single Use/Disposable Endoscopy market, empower the business owners to maintain a competitive edge over their rivals.

single use/disposable endoscopy market size is projected to reach USD 6.29 Billion at a steady CAGR of 21.1% in 2028, according to latest analysis by Emergen Research. Robust projected market revenue growth can be attributed to increasingly stringent government regulatory policies associated with patient safety and medical devices and Medicare, and increasing preference for single-use endoscopy for diagnosis of various diseases and conditions and increasing number of patients requiring treatment. Endoscopy is used in the diagnosis of diseases such as Gastro Esophageal Reflux Disease (GERD), orthopedic diseases, gastrointestinal conditions, and cancer.

Increasing investment by major companies to develop new technologies such as capsule endoscopes, duodenoscopes, choledochoscopes, and echoendoscopes is expected to support revenue growth of market going ahead. Global market revenue growth is also driven by rising concerns related to risks associated with use of reusable tools and potential cross contamination. In addition, requirement of skilled labor to operate and use reusable endoscopy equipment and tools and associated maintenance costs are factors driving preference for more technologically advanced single-use endoscopes such as in bronchoscopes with LED light source and CMOS image sensor.
