

Covid-19 epidemic causes rapid increase in romance scams

Cyber-Forensics.net helps victims trace their money back to the criminals

MELBOURN, VICTORIA, AUSTRALIA, November 8, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Cyber-Forensics.net, an industry leader in providing cyber-forensics services for victims of online scams, is introducing the new service, Fund Tracing and recovery for romance scam victims.

Cyber-Forensics.net reports a rapid rise of romance scam complaints due to the Covid-19 Epidemic. As Covid-19 caused millions to stay home, many turned to online dating websites to meet their loved ones and spouses. Scammers saw this trend and capitalized on it, preying on people's natural desire for companionship and leached out tens of millions of dollars from unsuspecting victims, often through hacking personal information, getting access to bank accounts, requesting assistance in flights, and even blackmail.

Cyber-Forensics.net hopes authorities will take heed of this rapid rise in complaints and follow up with fund recovery companies assisting victims to track down the perpetrators through technical tracing and blockchain analysis. Romance scam cyber tracing and fund recovery is an innovative solution in providing tracing services for victims of such malicious romance or "catfish" scams. The fund recovery service is designed to quickly identify the cyber-criminals and pursue them legally, be it civilly or with the assistance of local authorities.

Cyber-Forensics.net report found a 1500% in romance scam fraud, tens of millions of dollars last quarter.

Cyber-Forensics recommends victims report all cases of such fraud to local authorities”
