

Already a Standout in Legal Technology, Emergent Celebrates Their Newest Lawyer's Choice Award

Canadian Lawyer magazine recognizes Emergent once again with an award for their Estate Planning & Vault Manager software.

MISSISSAUGA, ONT, CANADA,

November 17, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Emergent's top-rated Estate Planning & Vault Manager software program has landed another Canadian Lawyer Readers' Choice Award. Voted on by the magazine's readership as a top solution for law firms, the software program won its recognition in the sub-category of Estates, Wills & Trusts in Practice Areas Specific Software/Solutions.

It's always an honor to be a leading supplier of Wills & Estates software to Canada's law firms.”

Darren Cooper, President & CEO of Emergent

Emergent is noted for their achievement with substantial coverage in the November issue of the Canadian Lawyer magazine.

Darren Cooper, President & CEO of Emergent, said of the award, “We're happy to have won this award several times in our company's history. That cannot, however, minimize the fact that readers have chosen us again this year. It's just another indicator that shows how well our comprehensive services continue to meet the ongoing needs of our clients. It's always an honor to be a leading supplier of Wills & Estates software to Canada's law firms.”

Just over one year ago, Emergent celebrated the milestone of nearly 500k client documents in storage in their award-winning vault management software. Noted by the industry as Canada's best for the estate planning industry, Estate Planning & Vault Manager is a digital workhorse. It seamlessly simplifies items like drafting Wills, Powers of Attorney, Representation Agreements, Enduring Powers of Attorney, Personal Directives, Reporting Letters, and more, including automatic tracking of clauses in signed documents so reminders are customer-tailored. The software is designed to automate codicils, letters to insurers, and all other estate planning documents.

Cooper adds, “Emergent's Estate Planning & Vault Manager makes it easy for practitioners to focus on strategy and providing the best service for each client”
