So, whether one wants to manage an increasing workforce, multiple manufacturing units, real-estate properties, promote a business, collaborate with vendors, or track finances, ePROMIS FutureGen Enterprise Cloud has a solution.

ePROMIS FutureGen Enterprise Cloud is tailor-made for large enterprises and growing companies. The platform offers extensive customizable options and best-in-class capabilities by embedding all the departments into a single business-wide software suite.

“Our new ePROMIS FutureGen Enterprise Cloud helps businesses simplify operations with centralized data management and maximize potential sales,” Shijilesh Cherrot, CTO of ePROMIS Solutions.

For manufacturers, ePROMIS FutureGen Enterprise SaaS streamlines warehouse management and automatically creates corresponding purchase and sales orders of raw materials. Similarly, for the sales team, ePROMIS FutureGen Enterprise SaaS offers complete prospect details in one place, enabling them to create hyper-personalized offers to increase conversions.

“Started as a company to supply accounting software to small businesses, ePROMIS has now evolved to a leading enterprise management software provider catering to the needs of different industries, functions, and departments for medium, large enterprises, and conglomerates,” said Matthews Matthew, founder, and CEO of ePROMIS.
