IAMTech[®]
EXPERIENCE NOT THEORY.

IAMTech - UK based industrial software company

The company produce software products for Maintenance, Shutdowns, Turnarounds, Outages, Permits and Isolations, Asbestos Management, Thermal Radiation Modelling and Atmospheric Gas Dispersion Modelling. The development is based on decades of Chemical, EPC, Gas, Manufacturing, Mining, Oil, Power, Pharmaceutical industry software experience.

As a 3rd generation privately owned company, IAMTech are extremely proud of the fact they remain one of the last independent software vendors.

13 years ago, the company decided to disrupt the industrial software market. Unlike all their competitors, IAMTech chose to publish their pricing to try and change the industry's mindset.

This principle enables all of their industrial customers to have equal products & service, at a less expensive, equal cost to all.

The company strives to continually build long - standing, transparent relationships with their customers, who they consider partners and ensure all of our partners receive the very best software, the best service, the best value.

Combining first-hand industry experience with an ever-growing number of partnerships with world-leading industrial organisations enables IAMTech to always understand the technology needs of industry, and act as a conduit to share best practices with all of its partners.
