Now our lead generation system not only helps book more patients, it provides an automated management solution to handle the influx of patient demand and workflow created.”

Brett Mallory

Power Diary is a software as a service (SaaS) solution for practice management. It helps organize administrative tasks, streamline appointment bookings, simplify invoice creation and billing, and manage patient medical records.

"Clients rely on our lead generation system to help them book more patients, but private practice physicians and their staff are not equipped to handle the amount of patient demand and workflow created. This can be challenging for practices," said Datajaz Analytics CEO, Brett

Mallory. "Power Diary solves that challenge."

"Now our lead generation system not only helps book more patients," said Mr. Mallory. "It provides an automated management solution to handle the influx of patient demand and workflow created."
