/EINPresswire.com/ -- Bitcoin has developed very fast in the past 12 years. As an investment product, Bitcoin has performed far better than all the investment categories of crude oil, gold, futures, Shanghai Stock Exchange and S&P 500; It is obviously different from traditional investment targets, which means that when mainstream assets are rising and falling at the same time, Bitcoin can get out of its own independent market.

More and more international giants are deploying bitcoin, including traditional mainstream payment giants, as well as Singapore’s largest commercial bank DBS, Singapore’s BBVA, and JP Morgan are also investing in bitcoin. The world’s largest investment management The China Securities Regulatory Commission has initiated an application. We will wait and see if this will pass. This also shows that Bitcoin has greatly entered the mainstream world's vision. Paypal has allowed some American users to buy and sell Bitcoin directly last year.

Bitcoin mining advantages

Mining and buying coins are the most direct way to buy BTC. When the currency price rises, everyone's income in the last year or two years is similar, but when the currency price drops sharply, there will be a difference. For example, the price of BTC dropped by half and never rebounded. In that way, friends who directly buy coins will lose half of their principal. Mining is equivalent to constantly discounting tun coins. Depending on the electricity bill, it is equivalent to 30% off tun coins. Although the recovery period is a little longer, the time is exchanged for space to avoid some impacts caused by the big fluctuations in currency prices, and the benefits are even greater. Stable and very defensive.

Simply put, users who choose to mine don't have to worry about the currency price plummeting, nor do they have to worry about the theft of information and assets, they only need to check whether the income in the account has been released every day.
