About Women's Entrepreneurship Day Organization

Women's Entrepreneurship Day Organization (WEDO)/#ChooseWOMEN is a 501c3 all-volunteer grassroots movement that works throughout the year in support of women in business globally. WEDO ignites women leaders, innovators, and entrepreneurs to initiate startups, drive economic expansion, and advance communities worldwide. WEDO is celebrated in 144 countries, 65 universities and colleges internationally, and the United Nations. The WEDO mission is to empower the four billion women worldwide to be catalysts for change and uplift over 250 million girls living in poverty worldwide. When women are elevated financially, families, communities, states, and countries prosper. This builds a global blueprint that will alleviate and eradicate poverty. In 2013, Diamond was inspired to launch the WEDO movement after spending time in Honduras with the Adelante Foundation, a group that provides microcredit to locally impoverished women. "I saw first hand how these start-up loans could change a woman's life and her family's by investing in her future and providing the opportunity to educate their children."
