According to analyst Schlotter's report: "The first phase of an 11,500-meter drilling program targeting deeper structures was very successful, allowing the Company to intersect much larger structures than previously identified and very important the structures are widening at depth. Yesterday, LOT reported the discovery of significant gold-bearing structures at Obalski and intersected 1.41 g/t Au over 28.50 m."

The current gyroscopic survey program will help guide the next exciting drilling phase, which will begin this month to understand better the mineral potential targeting at even deeper structures."

Ernest C. Schlotter

Analyst Schlotter also noted that "TomaGold's Pulse-EM geophysical survey conducted in June 2021 revealed significant differences between the current location of the gold-bearing structures at depth and those reported by previous operators. Historic holes deviated approximately 50 to 100 meters from targeted zones. The current exploration program has been expanded from 10,000 meters to 11,500 meters of drilling following a reassessment of the drill targets. The current gyroscopic survey program will help guide the next exciting drilling phase, which will begin this month to understand better the mineral potential targeting at even deeper structures. TomaGold has more than $5 mil. in working capital and can finance the ongoing drilling program without raising capital and diluting its shareholders."
