MARYLAND, GAITHERSBURG, UNITED STATES, November 12, 2021

/EINPresswire.com/ -- According to Statistics MRC, the Global Sodium

Borohydride Market is accounted for $ 1,555.95 million in 2019 and is expected to reach $2,673.40 million by 2027 growing at a CAGR of 7.0% during the forecast period. Some of the factors such as upsurge demand in the textile and packaging industry and environmental sustainability of pulp-based packaging material for food products are propelling the market growth. However, side effects on human health and the high cost of sodium borohydride are hampering the market growth.

Based on the end user, the pulp and paper segment is likely to have a huge demand due to better use of tissue and other paper-based toiletries owing to rising awareness about personal hygiene and cleanliness. The reduction in stationary applications in digitally superior countries is offset by other trending applications such as packaging, household utensils, printing, etc.
