

Three New Collaborative Brews from Urban South - HTX This November

Houston craft brewery partners with local organizations like Turning Point Beer, SpindleTap Brewery, Popston and more on new releases this month

HOUSTON, TEXAS, USA, November 17, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Urban South - HTX brewing team has been hard at work developing some innovative new beer options for fans to enjoy this November. The Sawyer Yards brewery has worked closely with several different local craft breweries and organizations this month and is excited to release the following collaborative brews.

Bedford Spilled: A collaboration with Turning Point Beer

After a successful collaboration on Twain Twacks Imperial Stout in September, Urban South - HTX and Bedford's Turning Point Beer came back together to create this new addition to Urban South's Spilled Series. Bedford Spilled features raspberry, lemon and lime given Turning Point's special Quencher Series treatment for a refreshing fruited sour infused with electrolytes.

Bedford Spilled is currently available on tap and in cans at Urban South's Houston taproom.

Popston Spilled: A collaboration with Popston

Urban South - HTX has collaborated on a very special brew with Jonathan Delgado, the creator of Houston's favorite ice pop, Popston. This addition to Urban South's Spilled Series features thick mango, creamy coconut and melted marshmallows all mixed into a lemonade-style brew for a great balance of sweet and sour.

Popston Spilled will be available for online pre-order starting Thursday, November 18 at 6:30 p.m., and available for pickup and in-person purchase starting Friday, November 19 at Urban South's Sawyer Yards taproom. Popston will be onsite at the brewery on Friday, November 19 serving his famous pops. The special beer will also be available at a number of Urban South's favorite Houston bars and craft beer shops, including Axelrad Beer Garden, Social Beer Garden, How to Survive on Land & Sea, Beers Looking at You, Craft Beer Cellar and The Growler Spot.

Triple Cheeseburger IPA: A collaboration with SpindleTap Brewery and Miller's Cafe

In this collaboration with Houston's SpindleTap Brewery, Urban South embodied Miller's Cafe's big, juicy triple cheeseburger. Triple Cheeseburger IPA is a triple IPA double dry hopped with Galaxy hops sitting at 10.2% ABV. The result is a refreshing body and a rich aroma of hops.

Triple Cheeseburger IPA will be available for online pre-order starting Thursday, November 18 at 6:30 p.m., and available for pickup and in-person purchase starting Friday, November 19 at Urban South's Sawyer Yards taproom.
