/EINPresswire.com/ -- It is time to heal. Time to banish negative energy and cleanse our auras. Smudging, particularly sage smudging, has proven to be one of the most efficient cleansing methods. HEM, one of the leading global incense makers, is launching a collection of White Sage Smudging Incense.

Sage smudging or 'saging' is a ritual that involves burning sage leaves or sticks. The smoke produced binds to all the negative energies existing in the place, person, or object. After a while, the smoke sinks to the earth, absorbing all negative energy and leaving only refreshing pleasant energies.

White Sage, revered by Native Americans for thousands of years, is known for its cleansing, purifying, and protective properties. This ancient herb is thought to be an effective air purifier and a protector of any space. It is often used as a sacred sage in rituals and ceremonies due to its ability to dispel
