presented current trends and prospects that are expected to boost growth in the next years.

The global Refrigerated Transport Market is estimated to account for US$ 27.21 billion by 2027

Growing e-commerce industry or door to door services is one of the major factors propelling the demand for light commercial refrigerated vehicle, as light commercial refrigerated vehicles efficiently deliver the products. The refrigerated vans or LCV have increasing demand, owing to rising demand for ready to eat/cook food, dairy products, and pharma products. Furthermore, increasing production of electric vans or electric LCVs has accelerated the need for LCVs in the market. For Instance, in 2017, Nissan launched an e-NV200 electric small delivery van with refrigerator concept.
