This year, the company celebrates its 25th Anniversary and continues to offer its global expansion services in more than 150 countries worldwide.

Ann is honoured to receive the International Business Person of the Year award in recognition of her growth and development as an international expert in the global mobility industry.

Mauve Group's CEO Ann Ellis stands with her Certificate of Accreditation

Managing Director of the All-Ireland Business Foundation Kapil Khanna expands on the Accreditation's selection process:

"We evaluate a company's background, trustworthiness and performance, and we speak to customers, employees and vendors. We also anonymously approach the company as a customer and report back on the experience. The business goes through at least two interviews and is scored on every part of the process against set metrics."

After reviewing a range of SMEs, Deputy Chair on the Adjudication Board Kieran Ring elaborates on the panel's reasons for selecting Ann for this achievement:

"This honour recognises Ann's continued growth & development as an international expert in her field. We wish to recognise Ann Ellis' exemplary track record over the course of her career. She is a trusted source who moves and inspires people with innovative ideas, she turns ideas into reality and knows and shows how to replicate her success."

Upon receiving the award, CEO Ann Ellis responded:

"It is an honour to receive All-Ireland Business Foundation's International Business Person of the Year award. Travelling, building a global company and experiencing cultural and business practices around the world have been the highlights of my career - I am proud to have that represented with this award. At Mauve, we are passionate about helping other businesses "go global" too, and I hope this award will show that we lead by example."
